

2021 ANNUAL REPORT

Our primary mission is to provide financial assistance to victims of violent crime with expenses incurred as a result of their victimization. In addition, CVRC also administers federal flow-through funding from the United States Department of Justice. This funding is sub-granted to private non-profit and governmental programs throughout the State of New Mexico.

As we prepared this annual report, New Mexico continued to face an unprecedented health and economic challenge—the COVID-19 crisis. The New Mexico Crime Victims Reparation Commission (CVRC) remained a constant in assisting victims of crime in New Mexico, just as it has for the last 40 years. As CVRC completes its 40th anniversary, we are reminded of the success and progress made.

In fiscal year 2021, CVRC received 3,486 compensation applications and awarded $2,272,065 million to or on behalf of crime victims. Additionally, our Grants Department awarded $20,620,506 in victim services grants to state and local organizations to assist crime victims.

CVRC was able to meet this challenge by transitioning many work roles to remote access for the first time in history. Our ultimate goal was to ensure there was no delays in providing the much-needed financial assistance for victims and their families. Groundwork was laid for CVRC's successful response to this challenge with our strategic paperless system design that began in FY2018 and has continued with each improvement made. These achievements have allowed us to provide responsive services for victims, their families, advocates, and medical services providers as well as grant funding to service organizations. While continuing the path forward, CVRC will build on its successes with enhancements to our web portal, including the ability to upload documents, communicate via messaging notifications and refine our customer services.
